The democrats and populists of Valentine precinct have nominated the following ticket which we present for the careful consideration of our readers: Assessor, E. Breuklander; justices of the peace, Robert Good and J. W. Williams; constables, H. Zelman and I. M. Jones; road overseer, district 21, J. Martin; district 22, R. Hansen.

A. H. Metzger is gaining friends every day, and his election to the com-missionership from the west is practically assured. The infamous canard circulated about him at the beginning of the campaign has been so thoroughly refuted that it now makes votes for him. Mr. Metzger will make a splendid commissioner, and being acquainted with all sections of his district will give entire satisfaction to his constituents. We heard it said that he would not qualify if elected, but this is a mistake; he will not only qualify but serve the people. Vote for Metzger, economy and business.

A Good Meeting.

When the chairman, Robert Good, called the meeting advertised for Monday night to order, about 200 people were present in Cornell Hall. After explaining the absence of Senator Allen, who missed connections at Norfolk, the chairman introduced the Hon.
T. J. Nolan, of Omaha, who was cordially greeted.

Mr. Nolan began his talk in a very happy manner, and said he regretted very much that Senator Allen was not present and compared himself to "dust of the earth" while Senator Allen was "the big boy whom God made." The first portion of his speech was devoted entirely to state issues and he showed conclusively the advantages of retaining the present state government in power for another two years. He reviewed the mismanagement of the republican rule of state institutions, and called Dorgan, Moore, Mosher, Bartley, et al the "camp suttlers of politics" who thrive off the weaknesses of the people with whom they deal. He eulogized Senator Allen and advised all to vote solidly for our legislative ticket. Coming to national questions he illustrated the quantitative theory of money, and denominated the gold bug bond holders "people of all countries who have no country of their own." His remarks were frequently greeted with applause.

State Senator Mutz being in the audience, he was called upon for a few remarks, and spoke briefly, reserving himself for his meeting here on Oct.
28.

Judge Broady, the brainy democrat and eminent attorney who gave Strode such a hot race for congress in the first district two years ago, responded to a call from the chairman, and sarcastically scored the late unlamented republican state government. His witty and sarcastic references to the "butterine and passes" campaign of the enemy were greeted with roars of applause, and we never expect to hear "butterine" spoken of again by a republican in this bailiwick. Judge Broady also touched upon the finance question and showed that his reputation for sound logic is well merited. His speech closed a highly successful meeting.

Court Notes.

Upon the request of the county attorney in the interests of our tax payers, Judge Westover has adjourned the full term of district court from October 31 to November 14. Jury November 15. This throws court after election and gives our people a better opportunity to attend court as jurors and witnesses without inconvenience, too. The list of jurors drawn for this term follows:

W. H. Wilkinson William Beemer
J. W. Finlayson Samuel Hudson
Thomas Stansbie George Wheeler Charles Yingst Richard Grooms Henry Hoening Dewey Kellogg
H. M. Cramer D. A. Piercy
C. W. Manchester Allan Williams
D. D. Dunn J. B. Stoll
Reuben Kissel H. Wallingford
Thomas Hudson E. W. Mudge
Frank Weeks Daniel Adamson
C. S. Gould O. W. Hahn.

Afraid of Indians.

The cattlemen of the Western Dakota ranges are becoming uneasy over the peculiar actions of the Indians in the statz, and are protesting vigorously over the almost abandonment of the only military post where protection is afforded.

While these rumors may be idle, still we cannot forget that these same "idle" rumors occurred just eight years ago, and the inattention of the war department resulted in a massacre of nearly fifty soldiers of the 7th cavalry at Wounded Knee.—Sturgis Press.

D. C. Nelson of Cody was in town on business this morning. Mr. Nelson has recently started in the merchandise business at Cody, and in addition handles feed, grain, and wire. He also has lumber on the road which will be the nucleus of a first-class lumber yard. Mr. Nelson was in this business several years at Ogden, Iowa. Cody has long needed a business of this nature, and we believe Mr. Nelson will receive a good patronage.

The boys of the Twelfth Infantry who were left behind to look after Fort Niobrara when the regiment went to the front, left for Jefferson Barracks (St. Louis, Mo.) Monday morning to join their regiment. The regiment property which was left behind was loaded during last week. Captain Woods was in charge of the detachment.

G. W. Wheeler was in town from Cody yesterday and ordered his new brand "T Cup" inserted in this journal.
Mr. Wheeler some time since sold all the cattle he had with the "three half circles" brand, and has discontinued its use.

This office turned out some very neat job work for the "Box T" outfit this week. All cattlemen should have stationery with their brand and location thereon. We do this work neatly and cheaply.
